Pinnacle Welcomes New Central Region Vice President Lynne Shirley

DALLAS - Pinnacle, an international real estate management firm, welcomed Lynne Shirley as its new Central Region vice president, effective April 27. She is responsible for new business development, recruiting, and developing strong management teams for Pinnacle's Gulf Coast portfolio.

"Lynne's management experience at a national level is a tremendous asset to our team," said Pinnacle Central Region President Kin Oldham. "We anticipate continued growth under her leadership."

Shirley has over 26 years of property management experience. Before joining Pinnacle, Shirley worked for Greystar Real Estate Partners for 15 years and held numerous positions within Greystar's several divisions including management, development and most recently as a senior director in their Charleston, S.C.-based asset management division. In this position, she was responsible for asset repositioning strategies, value creation and driving best practices, and served as a performance advisor and strategist for the national portfolio.

After attending college in Washington state, she relocated to Houston and began her career in the multifamily industry with Trammel Crow's Brentwood Properties.
